Speculators Fear to Meddle With Stock That Behaves in Such Strange Way.

SMALL FEAR OF EFFECT ON GENERAL MARKET

Belief That Blundering Manipulation Was Responsible for the Big Flurry.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—In the stock background today after its highly sensaoral performance of yesterday. Those ormances left an impression on the ints of traders that a security capable such eccentric and inexplicable acounties arry with it hazards in the inding, which discouraged attempts to

WHEAT OPENS STRONG, BUTTER TAKES STILL ANOTHER GOOD JUMP BUT CLOSE IS WEAK

CHICAGO. Dec. 28.—Reports of unfavorable weather in Argentina gave the wheat market a strong start here today, but prices declined sharply in the final half of the session owing to profit taking. Closing quotations showed net losses of at to 1912. Coarse grains and provisions also developed considerable weakness and closed at about the bottom.

The principal factor responsible for the strong opening in wheat was a dispatch telling of frost in the southern portion of Buenos Ayres province, where the crop is now within about two weeks of maturity. A later decline was precipitated by the selling of the December delivery by a prominent cash interest, which resulted in quite general realizing. During the day December sold between $1.1746.1194. May ranged between $1.1746.1194. May ranged between $1.1746.1194. May ranged between $1.1746.1194. Was ranged weakness in that pit following moderate firmness at the start. Shorts were fairly active, hidders for the December delivery at the opening, which resulted in an advance of 1c in that option, but the bulge prompted liberal realizing sales, which soon caused a reaction. The weakness became more pronounced during the final half hour. Prices closed §2 to $2$ lower.

Oats were fairly firm early, but the market finally yielded to the weakness of wheat and corn, closing quotations being a shade higher to be lower.

Provisions closed 75c to 25c lower.

Going up has been the steady cry of the butter wan for some months and Tuesday he boosted the price again by tacking on an additional 5 cents. making it now so cents a pound. Whether or not the advance will stop there and make the next change for a lower price cannot be said, although it is the carnest hope of the retail men that the market will soon break and the price drop down to normal again.

Local importers of produce from Callfornia and southern Newada reported Tuesday that produce sent out from here for distribution was in several cases for the butter, were inactive, and the business men are getting a rest after the big Christmas rush. Several carleiods of produce from Callfornia were received Tuesday and there is a fine supply of good things to eat on the row.

The roads from the rural districts borth and south of the city are now in fair shape and farmers are again bringing has and grain to the city. A delayed onload of turkeys from Missouri arrived Tuesday and selling was good. The relating price is now 32 cents a pound.
